Expert gaming keyboard with backlit system

Genius GX Gaming Series proudly announces the next generation of professionally designed and engineered keyboards for all game categories - Manticore. It's a brand new streamline backlit gaming keyboard with a mechanical feel and touch guaranteed to blow away the competition.

With a full color sixteen million RGB backlight palette, you can set your favorite color within the three cluster areas, as well as adjust the brightness using four different levels. The backlit keys give you the tactical edge, allowing you to launch assaults and flank your foes even in low light conditions. By increasing the amount of easy-to-reach commands with eight macro keys on the side, to assign up to twenty-four macros, you avoid any distractions when switching to Gaming Mode. In addition, the tactile design is perfect to use during the game for blind typing. You can also record macros directly through the master record button and assign them to any G- key without launching the user interface. The Scorpion user interface includes three game profiles for different game categories with the ability to instantly switch between them using the keyboard itself. Manticore has onboard memory to prevent command blocks and six media control keys are available for easy access. The twenty anti-ghost keys can be pressed at the same time without any "ghosting" effect.

Manticore has enhanced rubber pads design for stability during intensive game battle and features up to 1000 Hz report rate with a 1 ms response time to perform faster and better. It includes a gold plated USB 2.0 high speed connector and a 1.8 meter cable. With two additional USB ports located behind the keyboard, you can add extra USB peripherals like a headphone, mouse or speakers to be fully immersed during gameplay. With smart cable allocation underneath the keyboard, you can eliminate the cable clutter on your desktop.
